Description:

As of 2023, Alanya Alaaddin Keykubat University provides various forms of financial support to low-income students. Specifically, our university offers meal scholarships to 150 students and part-time employment opportunities within the institution to an additional 100 students. These supports help students meet their basic needs, such as food, housing, and educational expenses.

Students eligible for part-time work are selected based on their financial need, allowing them to continue their studies while receiving essential economic support through these work programs. The meal scholarships and employment opportunities ensure that students can focus on their education without interruption due to financial concerns, and they represent a significant part of the support programs maintained by our university.

These forms of aid provide a substantial level of support that enables students to meet their fundamental needs, aligning with our institution's commitment to social responsibility. In this context, Alanya Alaaddin Keykubat University aims to expand these financial support programs to create sustainable social benefits for our low-income students.
